NUMB. 1572

THURSDAY, JULY 3. 1740.

11. 1570.

Yesterday arrived a Mail from France.

Berlin, July 2. N. S.

EXT Thursday the King will certainly set out for Prussia, attended by the Baron de Pollnitz, and all the other Chamberlains and Nobility of the Court, several Officers of the King's Household being gone to Königsberg before-hand. Tho' the Velt Marshal the Prince of Deffau has thought fit to retire from Court, his Son the Hereditary Prince stays here, and close to the King's Person. 'Tis confirmed, his Majesty intends to augment his Forces with allions. The King has given Orders for pulling down the Stables of the Gendarmery, together with 14 neighbouring Houses, to the Landlords of the will give Satisfaction, in order to build a Palace for the Queen-Mother in the Quarter Dorothystadt. His Majesty for encouraging the Society here, has order'd Pensions to be settled for the Learned Members. The Society of Masons have all the Liberty they can wish for, and 'tis also said, that M. Voltaire is shortly to be at Court.

June 22. The Difficulties in the Ceremony of the Reception of the Count de Uhlesfeldt by the Commandant of Belgrade, and those concerning the Citadel of Belgrade put into the Hands of the Turks, the Ambassadors were exchange'd nearly in the Middle of the Save, in Presence of an Army of 1500 Germans drawn up on one side of the River, and the same Number of Turks on the other. An Express arrived lately from Constantinople, that they were still very uneasy there, of Kouli-Kan, who has already prohibited Commerce with the Porte; that the Populace continued to quarrel with the present Government; and provisions were so dear there that Persons in good Estates were obliged to feed upon Cuckrice, and the Common People upon Roots. This dearth of provisions is not only imputed to the Severity of the Winter, but to the Ravages committed by the Swedes in the Provinces which used to supply Constantinople. The Report that has been current of late Time, of the Emperor's intending to send an Army to Corsica, was, we thought, so improbable, we did not care to give it out; but now we hear, that the Troops his Majesty designs for Sicily are preparing to set out; but what General to command them is not said. The deceased Count of Constance and Augsburg was 83 Years old when he dy'd; of which he had been 50 Years a Bishop. The Cardinal Count de Bern, Bishop of Spire, succeeds him in the Bishopric of Constance, of which he had been Coadjutor since 1723.

June 14. N. S. The King is preparing to send the Turkish Slaves to the Grand Signior, in Execution of the Treaty of Commerce between the Courts; together with a Present for his Highness of 8000 Sequins, which is to be deliver'd by the Chevalier Finocchietti, who negociated the Treaty with so much Art, that such of the Ministers as might possibly have thwarted it, nothing of it till it was concluded. We hear from Paris, That the Queen of France, and the Princesses of the Blood, are preparing Presents to be made to her Majesty after her Decease, and that the Most Christian King is sending her Majesty a rich Coach and eleven Hunting Dogs of the best Breed. They write from Corsica, that the Count of Baron Theodore was on the Point of submitting to the Terms offer'd by the French General; that he receiv'd a Supply of Men and Money from the Main-Land, which alter'd his Resolution.

June 13. N. S. Cardinal Porzia, who dy'd in the already said of the Strangury, was 66 Years and 9 Days old. He was created a Cardinal 12 Years ago by Pope Benedict XIII. was of the Frioul a Province of Italy, descended from an illustrious Family of Porzia, was a Cardinal-Priest, and a Member of the Sacred Congregation of the Index

By his Death there is a fifth Place vacant in the Sacred College, and as the Cardinal Cenci is absolutely given over by his Physicians, 'tis to be suppos'd that the next Pope will have seven Hats to bestow including his own.

We hear that the last Express from Vienna brought Orders to the German Cardinals in the Convent to unite with the French Cardinals, for the speedy Election of a Pope, and that the Spanish Cardinals have the same Instructions.

Paris, July 9. N. S. The Prince of Campo Florido the new Ambassador from the King of Spain arriv'd here the 4th in the Afternoon, and next Day his Predecessor the Marquis de la Mina set out for the Court of Spain. They write from Villars Cotteret, that a Gentleman arriving there lately at an Inn to take up his Quarters, and being told by his Servant that as he was taking some fresh Straw out of the Barn to litter his Horses he discover'd the Corpse of a Man fresh murder'd, he was not dismay'd, but putting a Brace of Pistols in his Pocket, he ask'd the Landlord if there was no Company in the House to sup with him; to which he made Answer, that there was a Couple of Gentlemen above Stairs who would be glad to join him, and he accordingly introduced them into his Room, where after they were seated at Table, the Traveller watching his Opportunity shot them both dead, and then caused the Landlord to be seiz'd and committed.

L O N D O N.

From the London Gazette.

Whitehall, June 29, 1740.

This Day Mr. Thomas, Purser of his Majesty's Ship the Strafford, arrived here with Letters from Vice-Admiral Vernon, dated Porto Bello April 5, to his Grace the Duke of Newcastle, one of his Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, with the following Account, viz.

That on the 25th of February last, He sailed from Port Royal in Jamaica with a Squadron of his Majesty's Ships, and having a favourable Wind got Sight of the High Land of Santa Martha on the Spanish Main the 1st of March; That he ordered Capt. Windham in the Greenwich to ply up in the Night, and lie to Windward of the Port, for intercepting any Thing that might be coming in there the next Day; and himself bore away with an easy Sail for Carthagena: That the 3d at Noon he was joined by the Falmouth, Capt. Douglass, off Point Canoa, and that Evening anchor'd with the Squadron before Carthagena in nine Fathom Water, in the open Bay call'd Playa-Grande, and on the 6th he order'd in all the Bomb Ketches, and the small Ships and Tenders for covering and assisting them, and continued Bombarding till Nine in the Morning: That the Squadron received no Damage from the Town, but the Shells fell into the Town pretty successfully, particularly into the principal Church, the Jesuits College, the Custom-House, and beat down several Houses between them, and a Shell that fell into the South Balcion, silenced a Battery of 10 Guns there for a long Time. That he drew off his Bomb Ketches and small Craft on the 9th, and weighed with his Squadron on the 10th in the Morning, and making the Signal for the Line of Battle, he coasted the Shore towards Boca Chica; that they fired at him from the three small Castles without Boca Chica, but none of their Shot reached him: And that having left the Windsor, Capt. Berkeley, and the Greenwich, Capt. Windham, to cruise off the Port of Carthagena for 20 Days, he made Sail for Porto Bello, to repair there the Damages the small Craft had received, and on the 14th anchor'd with his Squadron in Porto Bello Harbour, detaching his Cruizers from time to time to lie off Chagre to block up the Enemy; and having got his Ships water'd, put to Sea on the 22d with his Squadron, except the Louisa and Falmouth, which had not completed their Watering, but had his Orders to hasten in and follow him, but an Accident in the Fire-rop Sail Yard of his Ship the Strafford, retarding his Progress, he ordered Capt. Herbert in the Newcastle to make all the sail he could in before him with the Bomb Ketches and all the Fireships and Tenders.

der his Orders, and Capt. Knowles, as Engineer on Board the Bomb-Ketches for placing them to play on the Castle, and to cover them with his own Ship and the rest; that Capt. Knowles got to an Anchor by Three in the Afternoon, and began bombarding and cannonading that Evening, and by Ten a-Clock at Night he got also to an Anchor with his own Ship the Strafford, and the Palmouth and Princess Louisa that follow'd him, the same Night; and continued bombarding and cannonading with Three Ships, firing leisurely only from their lower Tier till Eleven o'Clock on Monday the 24th, when the Spaniards hung out a Flag of Truce from the Fort, and he answer'd it from his own Ship, and stop'd all Firing as soon as possible, and sent Capt. Knowles on Shore, who soon return'd with the Governor; to whom having granted the Capitulation hereto subjoined, he sent him ashore again with Capt. Knowles, whom he appointed Governor of the Castle for his Majesty, and sent a Garrison along with him of five Lieutenants and 120 Men, and all the Boats of the Fleet to land them, and by 3 a-Clock that Afternoon Capt. Knowles entered the Fort with his Garrison. The same Evening Capt. Knowles sent and placed a Guard upon the Custom-house on the opposite Side of the River Chagre, and Vice-Admiral Vernon went on shore himself by Day-break the next Morning to give all necessary Orders, and found the Custom-house full of Goods for the Lading of the Gallies, such as Guayaquil Cocoa, Jesuits Bark, and Spanish Wool; and gave immediate Orders for their being speedily shipp'd off. The Number of Serons and Bags of the said mentioned Goods amounted to 4300: That the Two Guarda Costa Sloops in the River (which were all the Guarda Costas that were left in those Parts) were sunk just above the Custom-house, Carpenters having been ordered to break up their Decks and entirely destroy them. The Custom-house being entirely cleared by Friday the 28th, was filled with combustible Matter of the neighbouring Huts, and set on Fire that Evening, and it burnt with great Fierceness all that Night. On the 29th in the Morning, the Brass Cannon being embarked, which were 11 Guns and 11 Patereroes, and a good Part of the Garrison, the Mines were sprung under the lower Bastion which entirely demolish'd it. Then two Mines were sprung to blow up some of the upper Parts of the Works, and afterwards all the inner Buildings of the Castle were set on Fire, and were burning all the Night of the 29th. On the 30th Vice-Admiral Vernon put to Sea with his Squadron, and on the First of April in the Evening got to the Mouth of the Harbour of Porto Bello, and was joined there by the Windsor and Greenwich just returned from their Cruise off Carthagena; and on the 3d was joined also by the Buxton, which he had left at Jamaica to be repaired.

Mr. Thomas, who brought this Account, left Vice-Admiral Vernon on the 25th of April, under the Grand Bar, in his Return to Jamaica.
[The Articles of Capitulation above mentioned were inserted in our last.]
